SHOT HIMSELF AT BULLSRULE DEAD GIRL'S SIDE. THE DAY IN

ACCUSED POLICEMEN

PROMPTLY SUSPENDED.

Annie Voesick, a young girl, was admitted to the Presbyterian Hospital Monday suffering from an operation. She was told that she must die, and in an ante-mortem statement she involved two men, one of whom has been arrested.

At 7 o'clock last night Annie Voesick.

A tall, soldierly man entered the office of the hospital early this morning. He was painfully nervous. His smoothly shaven face and distinguished bearing dld not comport with the cheap clothing he wore.

"I would like to see my sister, Annie Voesick," he said to the clerk of books and the attendant said without looking up:

'Annie Voes! : is dead."

"Dead!" gasped the stranger.

When he had recovered somewhat from his agitation, he expressed a desire to see tae body. He was taken to the mcrtuary room and the attendant pulled back the sheet from the face of Annie Voesick.

An Englishman, taking a friend's advice, Came here one day and inquired the price Of our cheapeat blue serge suit. When we told him six fifty, and showed him the clothes. He exclaimed: "Fancy that! I was led to sup-That clothes in England were cheaper than here, But that's a mistaken impression, I fear; I've bought clothes in London for years, don't-cherknow.

But I've never seen fine clothes priced so low.
I'll buy that suit and a couple of others,
And I'll send all my friends to Hammerslough Bros."

"Up men-and at them!" said Wellington at Waterloo, and so say we to you of these fine, trustworthy suits and unlined coats and trousers
